Privacy Statement: The Flemish Bar Association and the Bar Council (depending on the Legal Aid Office of your choice) process personal data to perform its duties of general interest as set out in art. 508/7 et seq. of the Belgian Judicial Code. Personal data are any data that can provide information about an identified or identifiable natural person. Exchange of data: Performing the statutory duties may involve that we share these data, including personal data, with the processor Diplad, the appointed lawyer and other third parties if necessary. Security of personal data: The personal data is secured in accordance with the legal requirements and directives. Retention period for personal data: The legal aid office does not keep personal data longer than is necessary for the purpose of the data processing. The data will be kept no longer than seven years after your case file is closed and if necessary the payment of the pro Deo services. Your privacy rights: You have the right to access your personal data (Article 15 GDPR). If you wish to know which of your personal data the legal aid office is processing, you can submit a written request for access. The legal aid office will process your request within one month. Depending on the complexity of the request, this period may be extended by two months. You will be notified of any such extension. If your data appear to be incorrect, incomplete, or irrelevant, you can submit an additional request to rectify or supplement your data (Article 16 GDPR). In a number of cases, you can request deletion or erasure. You can also request the restriction of, or object to, the processing of your data (Articles 18 and 21 GDPR). You can submit written requests concerning the protection of your personal data to the Flemish Bar Association at dpo@ordevanvlaamsebalies.be. For identification purposes, we may ask you to provide us with a copy of the front of your identity card. You can find the complete privacy statement on the website advocaat.be.
